ATLANTA, February 1, 2010—Atlantic Trust announced today that Aaron N. Newland, CFP®, has joined the Newport Beach office as a vice president and business development professional. Additionally, Christine L. Lucero, CFP®, has joined the Boston office as an associate vice president and wealth strategist.

The addition of Newland is part of the firm's initiative to invest in key regions for growth, as announced earlier this year with new hires in Austin and Washington, D.C. "The Pacific Southwest is a region where Atlantic Trust has a great opportunity for building our business," said Jack Markwalter, Chairman and CEO. "Andrew Lang has done a remarkable job there with a small, yet strong team, and we believe Aaron will help us further penetrate this growing market."

"Bringing Lucero to the firm aligns with our commitment to enhance our client experience and support our holistic approach to our clients' overall financial picture," notes Markwalter. "We believe it is important to invest in our Wealth Strategies Group, which includes very senior experts who work closely with our relationship managers to address our clients' trust, estate and philanthropic goals."

With these new hires, Atlantic Trust is bringing talented professionals into their largest and smallest offices. Boston is the firm's largest office, founded in 1985 and now home to 38 client service professionals managing $4.2 billion in assets for 347 client relationships. The firm's Investment and Technology and Operations Teams are based there, as well. The Newport Beach office opened in 2002 and now has five professionals managing $0.72 billion in assets for 133 client relationships (all statistics as of December 31, 2009).

Aaron Newland brings over 17 years of experience in the investment management and estate planning fields to our Newport Beach office. His background includes working as a vice president for First American Trust, FSB, and the inception and management of an independent registered investment advisory business located in Long Beach, California. In these roles he worked with individuals and owners of closely-held business entities in the areas of retirement, business succession and wealth management. Previous to this, he served as a vice president with Fidelity Investments Personal Trust Services, where he worked with high net worth families to design and implement investment and estate planning strategies to meet their needs. Aaron received a Bachelor of Science in finance from Bentley College in Waltham, Massachusetts. He also holds the Series 8, 7, 63 and 65 licenses and is a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™. In addition, Aaron is active with the Long Beach Memorial Medical Foundation and is a member of the South Bay and Long Beach Estate Planning Councils.

Christine Lucero is responsible for the development of integrated wealth management solutions and provides comprehensive estate and financial planning services to clients. Prior to joining Atlantic Trust, Christine was an estate planning specialist with Fidelity Personal Investments. In this role, she provided guidance to the Fidelity Private Client Group on estate and stock option planning and received an award for Excellence in Action. Christine earned a Bachelor of Arts from Boston College and a Juris Doctorate with Honors from Suffolk University Law School. In addition, she is a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™. Christine is a member of the Young Lawyers Division of the American Bar Association and the ABA Section of Real Property, Trust and Estate Law.
